Court Asks Why Witness Was Not Called

WHEN evidence had concluded yesterday afternoon in the case at the Special Criminal Court, Dublin, in which three men are charged with breaches of the Sugar Rationing Regulations, the President said that the Court considered it necessary to refer to the fact that Jerome Thomas O'Sullivan had not been called as a witness by any of the parties concerned.

Before the Court are—Jerome J. O'Sullivan, sugar wholesaler, Crown Alley, Dublin; Michael O'Kelly, sugar company official, of Oaklands terrace, Terenure, and Richard Kennedy, carrier, of Lower Kevin street, Dublin.

At the outset of the case Jerome Thomas O'Sullivan, son of the first-named, had pleaded guilty to some of the charges.

Continuing, the President said that it would appear that important information had been withheld from the Court as a result. He had been offered to the prosecution by his father's legal advisers, but had not been called as a State witness. He would also seem to be in a position to clear up matters important to his father's defence, yet he had not been called on his behalf.

"EVIDENCE WITHHELD"

In the case of Michael O'Kelly, J. T. O'Sullivan's testimony would seem to be important to clear up a conflict of evidence, but, again, he had not been called. The Court felt obliged to state that it regarded this position as unsatisfactory.

Captain Cowan—The Court will remember that I, myself, raised an objection to what I considered a manœuvre in the case.

Mr. Roe—I think, in view of that information, the Court will consider a short adjournment to consider the matter.

Granting the adjournment, the President said the Court wished to make it clear they were not directing the defence, they were giving the opinion that important evidence was being withheld.

Mr. Roe said that as regards Jerome Joseph O'Sullivan, his legal advisers had come to the conclusion that his defence must stand or fall on his evidence. They had made an offer to the State of Jerome T. O'Sullivan as a witness, and it was up to the State to call him.

Captain Cowan said he would object to any further evidence being called at this stage of the proceedings.

After the adjournment, Mr. Hooper said that the prosecution did not ask for liberty to call Jerome Thomas O'Sullivan on their behalf. That left it as a matter for the defence, or any of them, to apply to the Court for liberty to call the witness. If none of the parties desired to call Jerome T. O'Sullivan as a witness, the Court itself had powers, if it thought to exercise them.

NOT TO BE CALLED

Mr. Roe said that the position was complicated by the fact that he appeared for Jerome T. O'Sullican, and he did not think it unreasonable to apply for an adjournment on the question until the following morning.

Mr. McBride submitted that the time for tendering evidence on behalf of either the prosecution or the defence had passed, but the Court had certain powers.

President—The Court considered that matter before making the statement, and we have no intention of calling any witness. There is no application before the Court yet, and there is no decision.

Mr. Roe—Our attitude is that we have given the State every facility. They had a full statement from Jerome T. O'Sullivan and the intimation that we had no intention of calling him.

Capt. Cowan said that he was taking exactly the same line as Mr. McBride, and he opposed the adjournment.

When the Court opened yesterday, O'Kelly, further cross-examined by Mr. Sean Hooper, S.C., who, with Mr. R. Humphreys, prosecuted, had said that it never came to his notice that O'Sullivan was claiming more sugar than was allotted to him.

Asked about the evidence of Roderick Greene, he said that it was entirely false.

Mr. Hooper—You heard Jerry O'Sullivan, jun., plead guilty to conspiracy with you in connection with these matters?—I did.

Do you know why he should make such a false statement about you?—I don't.

Re-examined by his own counsel, Mr. S. McBride, S.C., O'Kelly said that all the members of the Sugar Company, except three, did have access to the S 60's for the purpose of collecting them.

Richard Kennedy said that he never delivered any of the Cooney or O'Keeffe supplies to Greene, and he never sold sugar at any time to Greene or anybody else. His only connection with the whole business was as a carter. When he made deliveries for O'Sullivan, senior, the customers signed delivery receipts for them. There was no truth in Greene's statement, that Greene had paid him sums of £120 to £190 per ton for sugar.

The further hearing was adjourned until this morning.

Dublin Will Have 88 More Buses

"If it had not been for the outbreak of war the abandonment of the tramways would have been completed by now," said Mr. F. Lemass, assistant general manager, Coras Iompair Eireann, at the resumed hearing in the City Hall yesterday by Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald, S.C., regarding the capital sums to be paid by the C.I.E. to redeem the tramway wayleave payments to the Dublin Corporation and the Dun Laoghaire Borough Council.

The position in 1939, Mr. Lemass said, was similar to that in existence now. They had 90 trams in operation, and 88 buses were on order to replace them. It was the policy of the Tramway Company since 1936 to abandon tramways in the city as soon as possible. Within eighteen months they hoped to have these buses. A tram was cheaper to run than a bus; but, taking everything into consideration, the bus system would be more economical.

When all the tramway routes were abandoned, it would cost £78,964 10/- to replace the tramway lines with paving sets, Mr. Anthony Butler, C.I.E., maintenance engineer, estimated.

Earlier Mr. Cecil Lavery, S.C., with whom are Mr. J. Healy, S.C., and Mr. Micks (instructed by Messrs. Horan and Devine) (for C.I.E.), said that, in 1924, the cost of licences and carriage duty for trams was £199 in 1944 it was £71. For buses the cost was £55,963 last year. The taxation on fuel oil for buses was £69,424.

He recalled that the wayleaves paid to the Dublin Corporation by the Clontarf and Hill of Howth Tramway Company ceased when the line no longer existed. This tramway company paid £110 per annum up to its termination in 1942. Then Mr. Justice Black dismissed the claim for the continuance of the payment, allowing that the sum was payable while the trams were running, but not when the line closed.

The inquiry was adjourned until today.

Danny Morgan Falls, Re-mounts, Wins

THE meeting which finished at Listowel yesterday will be memorable for a wonderful exhibition of horsemanship by Danny Morgan in the Racing Board Chase. Morgan's mount, Rock Bell, a hot favourite, was first away, and going into the third fence he was well in front.

Here he came a cropper, as also did Nauplia, leaving Sergeant Dunne to go on his own. There was a large crowd around the fence, and the next thing spectators on the stand saw was Morgan holding on to Rock Bell and re-mounting.

By this time Sergeant Dunne was a distance in front. Morgan allowed his mount to make up ground gradually, setting him at his fences with great dash.

At the regulation next time round Sergeant Dunne was only out half-a-length ahead, and Rock Bell, jumping the obstacle well on this occasion, went just ahead.

Approaching the second-last fence, the pair were almost level. However, Sergeant Dunne burst a blood vessel here, and Rock Bell went on to win by ten lengths. Morgan got a tremendous reception on returning to the enclosure.

STAYED ON WELL

The principal race of the day, the Kingdom Hurdle, was won by the odds-on chance, Mark Twain. Brazon was at him a long way from home, but his mount ran on well; Miss Franco was being thouted when she moved up to the favourite along the far side, but she began to weaken just before the last bend.

Pericles, who won a flat race on Tuesday, was all the way a winner of the Trial Hurdle in the hands of P. J. Doyle, who had a most successful meeting.

Exile Warrior's long journey from Castleknock was not in vain, for Mr. Stewart's gelding ran on to be a winner of the Shannon Plate from the fancied pair, Trigia and Belmont Park.

FOUND ONE TOO GOOD

Agag, who had won on the first day, found one too good for him in Day Dreams in the Rathkeale Plate.

When Lonely Willy fell at the second fence past the stands last time round, Jesse went into the lead, but about three-quarters of a mile from home Day Dreams went on and was never caught.

The last race of the meeting provided a thrilling finish between the joint favourites, Footit and Kedra Cross. Before they made the turn for home Footit looked an assured winner, but in the straight Kedra Cross, coming with a strong run and getting through on the inside, got up to win by half-a-length. Mr. P. J. Lenehan was seen to distinct advantage on the winner, who thus completed a double for O'Grady—his third brace at the meeting.

HUMANITARIAN WORK IN DUBLIN

A subscription of £1,000 towards the funds of the Catholic Social Service Conference has been given by the Archbishop of Dublin, the Most Rev. Dr. J. C. McQuaid.

At the annual meeting of the Conference, held at the Central Catholic Library, 74 Merrion square, Dublin, on Wednesday, Dr. McQuaid thanked the workers in all departments for their devotedness in the past year. He referred to the needs of unemployed youth, and urged the federated societies to bend their attention more insistently to that aspect of city and rural life.

The president, Mr. Owen Crowley, thanked Dr. McQuaid for his generosity, help and advice, and said it was a great consolation to the members of the Conference to know that they had carried out their work as he wished.

Summarising the work of the Conference during the year, the president stated that twenty-five food centres had served 2,700,000 meals, and the maternity welfare centres in connection had served 185,000 meals, and had given 175,900 pints of milk. Sixty-five clothing guilds were working, and there were now two ambulances run by the Conference. With the removal of restrictions in the supply of building materials, it was hoped that the building society, which was ever mindful of its original purpose of providing accommodation for newly-married couples, would be able to review the situation.

Professor J. J. Pigott, who moved the adoption of the report, said that the work of the Conference was a shining example of Christian charity in a world ridden by hate and false ideologies.

50,000 AMATEUR RADIO ENTHUSIASTS

Irish experimental radio enthusiasts were hopeful that the Government would re-issue transmitting facilities at early date, said Mr. T. J. Green when he lectured on "Amateur Radio" to members of the Irish Radio Transmitters' Society, in Findlater's Chambers, Dublin, last night. "Amateur, or 'ham' radio, as it was more often called, he said, had now more than 50,000 followers. When the late Kingsford Smith made his east to west flight, about 1932, a station manned by Irish amateurs maintained radio contact with the aircraft over the greater part of the Atlantic. When the schooner Morrissey visited the Arctic regions in 1938-39 Irish stations were able to maintain contact when the efforts by American amateurs had proved fruitless.

Before 1939 almost every country in the world could boast of amateur radio transmitting stations—even the diminutive states of Andorra and Liechtenstein, Mr. Green said. Morse code, plus an admixture of "ham" jargon, was the principal medium of communication between stations. Up to September, 1939, under 60 experimental radio licences had been issued in Eire.

"ENEMIES OF THE SOCIAL SYSTEM"

Dog racing and drink were the enemies of the social system, for dog racing was purely a means of changing money in the most arbitrary fashion, and the continual use of alcohol made the manpower of the country less able to work, said the Rev. W. C. G. Proctor at the annual meeting of the Church of Ireland Labour Yard, held in the Dawson Hall, Dublin, yesterday. The Most Rev. Dr. McCann, Bishop of Meath, who presided, said that much criticism of their Church was based on the view that it was doing little of a practical nature to solve present-day problems. The Church of Ireland Labour Yard, he said, was a practical means of doing something to aid the hopeless and the helpless.

ORANGES 1/6 EACH

Oranges are selling in Moore street, Dublin, at 1/6 each. The supply is so limited that dealers are sold out before 11.30 a.m. each day. Grapefruit can be bought for 2/6 each in Northern Ireland; they sell for 6d. each.

Odds Are On Cork

THE home of the Dublin City soccer Cup for the next twelve months may be decided on Sunday. If Cork beat Bohemians at Dalymount Park, or even draw with them, the trophy will go to the south. Even if Cork lose, they will probably be the eventual winners of the competition, for they will have a point advantage still, and an away fixture against Waterford to end their programme.

In this one-round event, Cork have proved to be clearly the outstanding team. They have won four of their five matches and drawn the other; whereas only Shamrock Rovers of the other clubs have succeeded in winning twice.

Bohemians, however, have a curious record; for, with only one victory to their credit, they are still unbeaten, having drawn four times. They have been playing fast, lively football so far, and look to be the only team capable of worrying Cork out of their methodical, scientific game. Yet it will be something of a surprise if Cork lose—they do not appear to have a weak spot anywhere.

CHANCE FOR SHELBOURNE

The other matches cannot affect the leaders, unless Cork lose their last two engagements. Shelbourne, Bohemians team is at Cobh, may gain their first win of the season over Waterford to-morrow.

Shamrock Rovers, with their home form unbeaten, should account for Sligo Rovers, and Shamrock Rangers, at Limerick, are also a big crowd at Limerick, and add a couple of points to their tally.

Drumcondra visit Dundalk, and on their form of last week, when they lost unluckily at Cork, may earn a point, at least.

DONNELLY OUT AGAIN

For their game against Drumcondra Joe Donnelly returns to right-half for Dundalk, making his first appearance of the season. Dundalk are also introducing an Army player, Pte. J. Johnston, to centre forward. The team is: Kiernan; Miller, Hearty; Donnelly, Molloy; Matthews; M. Kelly, Douglas, Pte. J. Johnston, Stirling, J. Kelly.

CADET NOT TO RUN AGAIN

Mr. J. H. Barrington has decided to retire his useful seven-year-old, Cadet, to the stud. It had been hoped to train the horse for the Cesarewitch, but he larred himself up badly at York that he had to be scratched from the race.

BLUE WATER FOR IRELAND.

The three-year-old, Blue Water, owned by Lord Derby, has been sold to the Irish racehorse trainer, Captain Darby Rogers. He will not be delivered until the end of the season. The colt will run at Newmarket next week.

Buying of Local Industrials

THE outstanding feature of rather quieter markets on the Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday was the good buying of most Irish securities. A few strong features developed among Industrials. British Industrials were subdued.

Guinness's Ord. on strong buying soared 2/9 to 73/6, and Goodbody Ord. advanced 2/- to 43/-. Alliance Gas Ord. firmed up further to 24/1½, and Pim Bros. Pref. added pence at 15/3. E. and J. Burke Ord. strengthened 9d. to 9/-, and Cement improved 1/- to 56/-. Carroll Pref. tended higher to 31/6, and Independent Pref. to 39/6. Pye (Ireland) Ord. rose to 11/3, but Goulding Ord. declined to 35/-.

Great Northern Rails held steady. The feature of Home Government Funds was the strong demand for Land Bonds issues. Guinness Units were well maintained at 150/-.

BRITISH RAILS EASE ON PROFIT-TAKING

FROM OUR LONDON FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT

A GOOD tone prevailed in Stock Markets yesterday although British Funds were inclined to ease, and the section for Home Railway junior stocks boiled over. Demand for Rails was less pronounced, and some operators were inclined to take profits during the afternoon. Early gains in Oil section, with the result that values finished easier on balance. Foreign Bonds showed a little more life. Japanese hardened further and Chilian Bonds also improved fractionally, but Bolgarian issues were marked down. Argentine Rails were rather dull.

Brighter conditions were seen in the Oil section. Some of the Trinidad issues, such as Leaseholds, were wanted, which gave the section a better appearance. Burmah Ord. rallied on the maintenance of the interim dividend at 2½ p.c. (less tax at 8/4). The Mining market showed a little brighter.

Industrials showed to better advantage. Demand developed for Store shares, among which Marks and Spencer "A" Ord. were prominent. Woolworth Ord. and Boots Pure Drug Ord. also rose. A small rally was seen in Tea shares, the Ceylon section British Celanese Ord., which has been overlooked for some time, moved up.

A reduction in Thos. Firth and John Brown interim Ord. dividend resulted in a fall of 1/3 the price of the "A" Ord., while John Brown Ord. were marked down in sympathy. Such movements were an exception to the general rule among Steel shares.

The reduction in the interim dividend announced by Thos. Firth and John Brown, Ltd., from 4½ to 3 p.c. tax free, on the "A" shares is thought to be symptomatic of the conditions which are likely to prevail in the steel industry during the transition period from war to peace. The company, which is controlled by John Brown and Co., Ltd., incorporates the steel business of that company and the whole undertaking of Thos. Firth and Sons, Ltd., and Hadfield's, Ltd., of Norfolk and Tinsley Works at Sheffield and the Scunthorpe Foundry, and throughout the war years has been entirely occupied with Government contracts. It was doing extremely well in the pre-war years, having paid dividends of 17½ p.c. being paid for each of the years 1937 to 1939. For 1940 the rate was reduced to 12½ p.c., and since then the rate has been 10 p.c., paid in the form of 4½ p.c. interim and 5½ p.c. final. It may be that the reduction in the interim payment is merely a precautionary measure, in view of the many problems involved in the change over to peace-time production.

The company has an issued capital of £2,555,000, of which £1,000,000 is in "A" Ord. shares and £450,000 in "B" Ord. shares. The latter are all held by the controlling company.

WEDDING

Craigie—Telfer.—The wedding took place yesterday at St. Ann's Church, Dublin, of Mr. Donald Craigie, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Craigie, St. Helena, Finglas, Co. Dublin, and Miss Moira Winifred Telfer, daughter of the late Mr. James Telfer, Foundry Road, Drogheda, and of Mrs. Gordon Taylor. The Service was conducted by the Bishop of Meath, the Most Rev. Dr. James McCann. The bride was given away by her stepfather Mr. Gordon Taylor, and was attended by her sister, Miss B. McDowell. Mr. Gordon Craigie was best man, and the ushers in the church were Mr. Victor Craigie and Mr. Edward Craigie.

GARDENERS MEET

The Irish Gardeners' Association and Benevolent Society held its opening meeting for the season in the Red Bank Restaurant, Dublin, last night. A lecture on "The Culture of Plants in Water" was given by the hon. librarian. In the annual competitions of tomatoes and onions, first prizes were won by Messrs. T. Callaghan, W. Stringer and J. Hopkins.

Clontarf's Cup-Final Team on View

TWO clubs, Clontarf and Old Wesley, will be taking the field to-morrow for their opening Rugby game of the season. Clontarf are Leinster's visitors at Donnybrook, and Old Wesley meet St. Mary's at Kimmage Grove. The Clontarf team, strange to relate, is precisely the same as that which put up such a stern fight against Old Belvedere in the Leinster Senior Cup final last April.

They will hardly have the same life in their play on this occasion, but they are probably more dangerous behind the scrum than Bective, whose backs did not reveal much attacking ability against Wanderers last Saturday.

Old Wesley, too, are much as last season, and, as they demonstrated then, are capable of playing bright, open football. On paper, St. Marys have a useful pack, Sergin Coveney and Smyth have all played for Leinster—but, in fact, they are disappointing, and the forwards may be unable to hold the Old Wesley eight.

PROMISING BACKS

It will be interesting to see how the young Blackrock backs fare against Lansdowne at Lansdowne road. The team will, almost certainly, be beaten forward, but, with the ball coming out more easily from the scrum under the new rule, Blackrock may get sufficient chances to snatch winning scores.

Palmerston and Monkstown did well in

PANY MEETING

AND DUBLIN RS' GAS CO.

utlook Obscure

With regard to the unsatisfactory attitude of certain sections of our employees and the stoppages of work which I had occasion to refer to in my last half-yearly remarks, I am pleased to say that we have since then experienced an attitude of greater responsibility. I am also pleased to inform you that short-time working, which has since 1940 been an unwholesome feature in our litting department, has been eliminated, and it has been possible throughout the whole of this year to secure materials sufficient to provide whole-time employment and maintain our house installations in a most satisfactory condition.

An action has been instituted in the High Court by Mr. W. J. Grey, formerly General Manager and Secretary, against the company, claiming sums for salary and emoluments alleged to be due to him, and damage for alleged wrongful dismissal. That action is being defended.

As the action has not yet come to trial, it would be improper to refer to or discuss any matters which may have to be considered and adjudicated upon by the Court. I would accordingly ask the stockholders to refrain from raising any such matters until the Court proceedings have terminated.

You will be aware your Board has appointed to the vacancies in the General Managership and Secretaryship of the company Mr. N. J. Robertson and Mr. B. J. Doyle, respectively. Mr. Robertson, who has been with the company for the past six years, has most valuable administrative and technical experience in large gas undertakings. Mr. Doyle has been in the company's service for many years, and has for the last fifteen years held the position of Chief Accountant. We have united that position with the Secretaryship, and to these joint offices we have promoted Mr. Doyle, thus contributing, in our opinion, to closer co-operation between the Board and the company's chief officers, and effecting substantial saving of expenditure.

OUTLOOK OBSCURE

With regard to the future, it remains impossible to forecast how soon we shall return to normal trading. The coming winter, as I have indicated, is likely to be one of severe strain and anxiety, and I am able only to assure you that your directors will give the greatest possible attention to our business, and will pursue every possibility which may improve our position. No alternative source of coal supply other than the British mines is open to us, and we are closely concerned in the prospects and results of the authorities' efforts in that country to secure a greater coal output.

In conclusion, while there remains much to be achieved before we return to normal, I feel we may fairly claim that progress has been made. You will recollect that the directors last report summarised the financial results in the two years following the substantial revenue loss sustained in 1942.

In these two years the profits available for appropriation and dividend totalled £276,519, and enabled your board:

(1) To eliminate the loss of £81,735 brought forward on net revenue account;

(2) To resume the payment of dividends;

(3) To replace all amounts drawn from reserve fund, except £6,000; and

(4) To pay off the company's bank overdraft of £205,000, and make a total improvement in the bank position by approximately a quarter of a million pounds.

The position created by these successful operations afforded general satisfaction. I recall them now merely for comparison with our present position. I am happy to assure you that the conditions which evoked warm approval in March last have all been maintained, and in some respects improved, notably in the increased dividend now recommended.

I would be guilty of regrettable lapse if I omitted grateful reference to the undiminished confidence reposed in the Board by our company's proprietors as a whole. The proxies which have reached us for this meeting supply convincing evidence of unfailing support, which we highly appreciate.

I beg to move that the report and statement of accounts be received and adopted, and I ask Dr. Lorcan Sherlock to second the motion.

Dr. Lorcan G. Sherlock seconded the motion.

Mr. F. J. MacDonnell, supporting the motion, congratulated the board on the result of their last half-year's trading. The attention they had paid so carefully to the company's business was reflected in the greatly improved results shown in the balance sheet.

He was perfectly confident that they had weathered the storm, and, granted anything like normal improvement in supplies and quality of coal, he did not see any reason why the company should not recover the same sound financial position it held before the war.

Mr. P. T. Montford said it was a real pleasure to join in congratulating the board on the very wonderful report presented. He thought all the shareholders would join with him in expressing their appreciation of the progress made.

Mr. A. W. Harty said that, as an engineer who had for many years control of gas works, he fully realised and appreciated the good work done by the board and the management to surmount the enormous difficulties, especially in using unsuitable and uneconomic coal for the manufacture of their gas.

The Chairman and members of the board had adopted a policy of rationing. It was a bold policy. They had to increase the price of gas, but to their credit, when it was found possible to take off that increase the board did so. In addition they were also in a position to increase the dividends this year. It gave him great pleasure to congratulate the board and management on their good work.

"NOT SATISFIED"

Mr. M. R. Heffernan said that he could not join in the congratulations. He had no personal animus against any member of the board. He knew that most of its members had records of very valuable service in their own respective spheres, but, so far as he could see, for the particular requirements of this company, there was not a single man qualified to act as member of the board. Not one of them had any technical knowledge whatever of gas production. He also thought that the amounts paid to the directors was absolutely absurd—it worked out at £10 for every meeting they attended. Many of them were directors of other concerns: this duplication and triplication of directorates had become a thorough ramp—it was a scandal.

What was there wonderful about the company's financial position? What was there wonderful in getting a dividend of 3 per cent. per annum? He thought the board that if the company did not make substantial improvement in their financial position, and in the division, that, so long as he was a shareholder, he would stand up and oppose the adoption of the reports.

Mr. Vincent Rice, B.C., joined in the congratulations, and said that 3 per cent. dividend in such circumstances as they had passed through was not only satisfactory, but an assurance that when trading conditions improved the shareholders would receive proper and full remuneration for their investments.

Mr. P. Purcell, supporting the motion, said that the Board had the confidence of the shareholders, and that was very amply demonstrated at the last general meeting.

Mr. Harty had referred to the difficulties of producing gas in the emergency conditions of the last six years. Their results showed that the company had, in these trying conditions, delivered almost identically the same volume of gas in 1945 as in 1939. That redounded very much to the credit of their engineers and management.

The Chairman, replying, said that his colleagues and himself felt most grateful for the commendations of their work. It would be great encouragement to them in their future work to know that they had the stockholders behind them. He thought they could all appreciate the amount of weight to be attached to Mr. Heffernan's criticism.

The motion was then put and carried. Mr. Heffernan alone dissenting.

On the motion of the Chairman, seconded by Sir R. Needham, it was agreed that a dividend for the half-year at the rate of three pounds per cent. per annum (less income tax) on the Consolidated Ordinary Stock be declared, payable on and after 10th October, 1945. It was also agreed, on the motion of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. W. E. Wylie, K.C., that Mr. B. J. Doyle be paid in respect of his additional duties as Secretary of the Company remuneration not exceeding £400 per annum.

A vote of thanks to the Chairman and Board was carried on the motion of Dr. Myles Keogh, seconded by Mr. T. Maguire.

Future of the L.D.F.

Is it the intention of the Government to continue the Local Defence Force? At next Monday's meeting of the Dublin Corporation, Councillor M. O'Higgins will move a resolution requesting the Minister for Defence to give this information.

If it is the intention of the Government to do so, the Minister will be asked to outline the conditions of service. Also it will be suggested that the Government should appoint a date in the near future on which those members of the Local Defence Force who wished to do so might leave without the necessity of resigning or being discharged.
